POLICY POSITIONS

Prioritizes advancing the growth of the community through increasing wages and digital currency access

- As a youth mentor for children in need, Tran highly values quality education and hopes to strengthen our educational system through raising teacher wages and providing more early childhood education opportunities; drawing on his experience as a workers' rights attorney, Tran plans to advocate for safer working conditions and increasing the minimum wage to ensure all workers can afford housing

Relies on his experience as a local pharmacy owner to strongly advocate for lowering health care costs and supporting organizations like Planned Parenthood

- Tran and his wife own a local pharmacy where he witnesses the challenges families face in affording medicine; hopes to fight against high health care and prescription drug prices while expanding Medicare; tran strongly supports continued funding for Planned Parenthood and protecting women's access to birth control and cancer screenings
