

Suhas Subramanyam (D-VA-10)

BIOGRAPHY

Former Obama administration adviser and Virginia state senator, Subramanyam is running for Congress to replace Rep. Jennifer Wexton

EDUCATION

JD, Northwestern University School of Law, 2013; BA, Tulane University, 2008

WORK HISTORY

State Senator for Virginia's 32nd District, 2024-Present; Delegate, Commonwealth of Virginia House of Delegates, 2020-2024; Counsel, Level, 2021-Present

PARTY HOLD

Read the full profile on Almanac

POLICY POSITIONS

Supports access to affordable and safe reproductive health care

- Sees that the Dobbs decision was a "devastating blow to women across the country and their ability to make their own healthcare decisions"; believes that everyone should have access to "affordable, reliable, and safe" reproductive health care

Advocates for climate-conscious policy

- Believes that we are facing a climate emergency; does not want to leave his daughters with a world that is "less habitable and more unstable"

Proposes increased funding and access to mental health services

- Wants to make healthcare more accessible and affordable; fought for transparency in prescription drug pricing in Virginia House; promises to do the same in Congress

DISTRICT PROFILE: VA-10

POPULATION

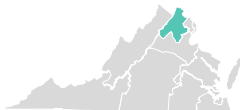

805,856

MEDIAN HOUSEHOLD INCOME

$154,020

RACE & ETHNICITY

52% White, 8.4% Black, 16% Asian, 18% Hispanic

DONATIONS

Total raised: $1,302,036

TOP THREE INDUSTRIES

- Hospitals/Nursing Homes
- Electronics Mfg & Equip
- Lawyers/Law Firms

ELECTION RESULTS

2024
GENERAL:

Subramanyam (52.1%)

Clancy (47.9%)

CPR* RATING:

Solid D

